

4th Annual HBCU Tech Law Summit
&
19th Annual IP and Social Justice CLE Seminar

CCPA and other Data Privacy Regulations

DOMINIQUE SHELTON LEIPZIG

CHARNAY AUGUSTIN

STANTON BURKE

ALI JESSANI

RIZWAN QURESHI

CHARITY OGBEIDE

Dominique Shelton Leipzig

Privacy and cybersecurity attorney Dominique Shelton Leipzig co-chairs the firm's Ad Tech Privacy & Data Management practice. She provides strategic privacy and cyber-preparedness compliance counseling, and defends, counsels and represents companies on privacy, global data security compliance, data breaches, and investigations with an eye towards helping clients avoid litigation. A former litigator for 22 years, her compliance counseling over the past 7 years includes defending companies under investigation by the Federal Trade Commission, attorneys general offices and other regulatory and government authorities. Through these actions and related litigations where she provides subject matter leadership, Dominique is able to advise companies on best practices in privacy, cybersecurity, data, mobile, cloud storage, Ad Tech privacy, Internet of Things, cyber preparedness, and other areas of regulatory compliance. As a member of the firm's Coronavirus Client Service Team, Dominique advises clients on the issues pertaining to privacy and data security as they relate to issues associated with the COVID-19 pandemic.

Dominique frequently conducts trainings for senior leadership, corporate boards and audit committees regarding risk identification and mitigation in the areas of privacy and cyber. She is known for asking deep questions that provoke transformative answers. Dominique's landmark book on the CCPA is about to publish a new edition, and she pioneered the concept of data as a pre-tangible asset in what she calls "our post-data world." Dominique represented the California Chamber of Commerce in a six week long negotiation with Alastair Mactaggart, his lawyer James Harrison, his consultant former FTC Technologist Ashkan Soltani and Sen. Hertzberg regarding the CCPA 2.0 and many of the business-friendly terms were obtained through those negotiations. She has trained over 3500 professionals on the CCPA. She is a member of the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP) Board and a leading advocate for data ethics. Her commitment to active integrity extends to all her work.

Recognized as a "Woman Leader in Tech Law" by The Recorder and as one of the most influential lawyers in digital media and e-commerce law by the Los Angeles Business Journal, Dominique has deep experience advising publicly-traded and privately held companies in healthcare and med tech, media, entertainment, e-commerce, financial services and other industries. She leads companies in legal assessments of data security, cyber preparedness and compliance with such regulations as the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA), HIPAA, the Video Privacy Protection Act (VPPA), the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), and the NIST Cybersecurity Framework.

Stanton Burke

Stanton Burke, Associate, CIPP/E, Baker & Hostetler

Stanton Burke counsels clients on a broad range of regulatory matters, including data privacy, data integrity, cybersecurity, and technology transactions. Stanton has advised clients regarding compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), coordinating correspondence among client business, IT, HR, management, and legal teams. This includes conducting data mapping interviews, advising on cross-border data transfers, assessing the value of data, implementing consumer and employee privacy policies, building data subject request portals, and developing incident response plans. His experience also includes analysis and application of GLBA, HIPAA, COPPA, FCRA, state biometric privacy laws, and other U.S. state and federal privacy and data security requirements and global data protection laws. Stanton also has experience advising clients on intellectual property and developing legal and ethical strategies for deploying artificial intelligence (AI).

Before joining Baker Hostetler, Stanton was an associate in the San Francisco office of an international law firm, and the Washington D.C. office of Microsoft where he advised executives and attorneys on AI, data privacy, and telecommunications. During law school, Stanton served as a Law Clerk for Commissioner Clyburn at the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), and also worked on the Global Policy Development team at Facebook.

Charity Ogbeide

Charity Ogbeide is an experienced privacy specialist who works at IBM as a Principal in the Privacy & Data Protection Group. He works with multi-national organizations to provide guidance on various privacy laws such as the CCPA/CPRA, EU GDPR, LGPD, and GLBA. He enjoys helping his clients navigate opaque areas to make risk-based decisions. Charity is also a Cybersecurity & Data Privacy Adjunct Professor at the University of Maryland Global Campus. Charity received his Juris Doctor from Howard University School of Law in 2018. He also holds privacy certifications from the IAPP, and OneTrust.

Ali A. Jessani 4th Annual Tech Law Summit Bio

Ali A. Jessani
Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.
+ 202 663 6105
Ali.Jessani@wilmerhale.com

Ali A. Jessani counsels clients on the privacy, cybersecurity and regulatory risks presented by new and proposed uses of technology and consumer information. Specifically, he advises clients with compliance issues related to the California Consumer Privacy Act, the General Data Protection Regulation, the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, state biometric laws and other federal and state laws governing data sharing, ownership and protection. Mr. Jessani also guides companies through legal obligations after data breaches, as well as through state and federal regulatory investigations.

While pursuing his legal education, Mr. Jessani was an extern in the US Department of Justice Civil Rights Division's Voting Rights Section and an intern in the Voter Expansion Department of the Democratic National Committee. He was also Executive Editor of the Duke Journal of Gender Law and Policy.

JD, Duke University School of Law, 2018

BA, Political Science, University of Miami, 2015 magna cum laude